

Mars Area Public Library
107 Grand Ave, PO Box 415
Mars, PA 16046
724-625-9048
www.marsarealibrary.org

April 25, 2018

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

“Lyme Disease; Do I have it? How do I get rid of it? I was treated and I’m still sick!”

Saturday, May 12 at 10:00 AM at the Mars Area Public Library.

Please call 724-625-9048 to register.

This seminar covers answers to your questions about the disease that other doctors don’t seem to really understand. There is help for you!

Presented by Dr. Shannon David Smith, DC, CCN, CCSMS, and FMS.

Dr. Shannon David Smith is a graduate of Palmer College of Chiropractic and is board certified in Clinical Nutrition. He has been in private practice in Pittsburgh for the last 25 years, and practicing at the Turnpaugh Health and Wellness Clinic in Mechanicsburg, PA for 2 years. He specializes in functional medicine, autoimmune support. He is one of only a few Doctors of Chiropractic to be invited to MED MAPS certification (Medical Academy of Pediatric Special Needs) specializing in Autism Spectrum Support and evaluation. Became a member in ILADS (International Lyme and Associated Diseases Society) in 2016 and has had clinical experience in seeing many patients with acute and chronic Lyme presentations. He has attended over 700 postgraduate hours of nutritional training, as well as HBOT (Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy) conferences and education seminars with Dr Paul Harch, MD. He is a second generation Chiropractor (Dr. Frank Smith, class of 1966).

Dr. Smith has years of experience helping patients regain their health through conservative and holistic approaches utilizing Functional Medicine, Chiropractic, diet modifications and nutritional support. As a chiropractor, he is trained to not just treat symptoms but to find and fix the cause of the problem. He wholeheartedly embraces this philosophy with his nutritional and functional medicine patients as well. Dr. Smith is married and has two teenage daughters.

